

Application for a 'Regular Provisional Residence Permit - persons making a journey in connection with family reunification with an asylum seeker' (647)

Read the explanation before you start to fill out the form.

For whom is this form intended?

With this form you can submit an application for a Regular Provisional Residence Permit (mvv) under the scope of a journey in connection with family reunification for your partner, spouse of (foster) child, who are staying abroad and who want to join you in the Netherlands. It is a condition that you have a Dutch asylum residence permit. Are you a unaccompanied minor holder of an asylum residence permit? Then you can use this form to submit an application for an mvv for your parent(s).

In this form you are referred to as 'sponsor'. Your family member is referred to as 'foreign national'. The mvv application is only granted if the partner, parent, spouse or (foster) child for whom the mvv is applied for:

- actually belongs to the family of the sponsor in the Netherlands; and
- the application has been submitted within 3 months after the asylum residence permit has been granted to the sponsor (this is the period within which you can apply for family reunification).

Do you and/or the foreign national for whom you are applying for the mvv not comply with these conditions? Or have you received a derivative asylum residence permit as a family member in a family reunification yourself? Then your family member cannot be granted an mvv for the purpose of family reunification and cannot be granted a derivative asylum residence permit. In this case you must submit an application for a regular residence permit within the context of 'family members and relatives'. For this purpose you must use the application form 'Application for the purpose of residence of 'family members and relatives' (sponsor)'.

You do not have to pay any fees for an application for an mvv under the scope of a journey in connection with family reunification. However, you do have to pay fees for an application for a regular residence permit.

How do you fill out this form?

This form comprises different appendices. Which appendices you need to fill out depends on your own situation. Only submit your application once you have completed filling out this form, signed and you have gathered together all the requested documents and evidence. If your application is incomplete, the IND will be unable to assess your application properly.

Processing of personal data

The Immigration and Naturalisation Service (IND) processes personal data when it processes your application, notification, or request. This means that if needed the IND will request data from you yourself and other organisations or persons. The IND also uses and stores data and shares them with other organisations. When doing so, the IND strictly adheres to the stipulations of privacy legislation. For instance, the IND must treat data safely and with due care. The law also gives rights. At your request, you are allowed to see which data on you the IND processes. You can also get information on why the IND does so and to whom your data have been passed on. On www.ind.nl you can read how the IND processes your data and which rights you have. You can also read how to use your rights.

Would you like more information?

Then visit the IND website at www.ind.nl. You can also contact the IND by telephone via 088 043 04 30 (normal charges apply). From abroad you can call +31 88 043 04 30.

1 Who can submit this application?

The foreign national and the sponsor in the Netherlands can submit this application. Only the sponsor can use this form. When the foreign national who remains abroad wants to submit an application for an mvv, he/she must approach the Dutch diplomatic representation there.

You are the sponsor

> Please tick

2 Previous procedures

If the foreign national for whom you are applying for a mvv has already been through a mvv procedure, please indicate this here.

2.1 Has an application previously been submitted for an mvv for this foreign national?
If yes, for what purpose?

Yes No > Continue to 3

2.2 Have there been any new facts and circumstances since then?

Yes No

If yes, which facts and circumstances?

3 Means of evidence

You must collect means of evidence from abroad for your application. All this means of evidence must have been translated into Dutch, English, French or German by a translator certified at a Dutch court. The means of evidence does not have to be legalised. Which means of evidence you have to submit depends on which family member wants to come to the Netherlands. Below you can read which means of evidence is requested for each family member. Only submit an application when you have collected all the means of evidence.

Identity document

For each family member you must send a copy of the front and back of an identity document. An identity document is an official document issued by the authorities of the country of origin, which shows the personal data of the family member and a passport photo. For example, a passport, identity card or any other document that meets the above requirements.

Document examination

It is possible that the IND wants to investigate certain documents. It is therefore important that you have the original documents, issued by the authorities of the country of origin. The documents which have already been examined during your asylum procedure do not have to be examined once again.

Is there a biological relationship?

Then the IND can start a DNA test. This only applies when the IND has established that you are unable to meet the standard of proof. This is the case when you cannot have the required means of evidence at your disposal through no fault of your own. This is why you have to complete, send and enclose the appendix Application for DNA test in case of a family reunification. Will a biological parent remain behind? Then also complete the details of this parent.

Select the family member you want to bring

You can only tick one family member per application form. If you tick more than one family member, then your application will be no longer valid. For each family member, you submit an application form, the means of evidence requested below and an identity document from that family member. If you are in doubt, then contact the IND. If you have any doubts, please contact the IND.

Your statutory spouse or registered partner

When it concerns a marriage, enclose the following documents with your application:

- A copy of the marriage certificate issued by the authorities of the country of origin; and
- A copy of an extract from the register of births, deaths, marriages and registered partnerships, which shows your family composition; and
- A completed appendix 'Questionnaire (married) partner for asylum in connection with family reunification'.

When it concerns a registered partnership, enclose the following documents with your application:

- A copy of the certificate of the registered partnership, which was issued by the authorities of your country of origin.
- A completed appendix 'Questionnaire (married) partner for asylum in connection with family reunification'.

Your partner with whom you are married in a traditional/religious sense

Enclose the following evidence with your application:

- A copy of the religious/traditional marriage certificate; and
- A copy of the evidence which shows the religious/traditional marriage is registered in the registers of the country of origin; and
- A copy of an extract from the register of births, deaths, marriages and registered partnerships in your country of origin, which shows the family composition; and

- A completed appendix 'Questionnaire (married) partner for asylum in connection with family reunification'.

Your unmarried partner

Enclose the following evidence with your application:

- A completed appendix 'Questionnaire (married) partner for asylum in connection with family reunification'.
- Evidence to substantiate your relationship.

Your parent(s). You are under the age of 18 and have a residence permit asylum. You want to submit an application for your parent(s).

Enclose the following evidence with your application:

- A copy of your birth certificate issued by the authorities of your country of origin. You do not have a birth certificate? Then enclose a family booklet or an extract from the register of births, deaths, marriages and registered partnerships with your application; and
- A copy of the evidence which shows who your guardian is in the Netherlands. For example, the guardianship order of the court.

Do you not have these documents? Then enclose the following document with your application:

- A completed and signed appendix 'Application for DNA test in case of a family reunification'. Will a parent remain behind? Then also complete the details of this parent.

Place of collection of regular provisional residence permit (mvv)

(if the regular provisional residence permit is granted)

At the Dutch embassy or consulate in the country of origin (or country of continuous residence). Continuous residence is assumed, among others, when your family member resides in a country on the basis of a residence permit with a period of validity of 3 months or more. The continuous residence in that country must be substantiated with evidence. When there is no Dutch embassy or consulate, the mvv must be collected in the nearest country that has a Dutch representation. If your family member has to travel to the Dutch embassy because additional information is needed, the embassy has to be able to contact your family member to make further arrangements. This is why you must give a telephone number so that your family member can be contacted.

7.1 Town

7.2 Country

7.3 Telephone number

8 Identification

Enclose the following documents with the application:

Your documents:

- A copy of the front and back of the residence permit asylum for a specific period.

Documents of the foreign national:

- A recent passport photo that reflects the current appearance of the foreign national. If the foreign national does not have a recent passport photo, you can also submit another recent and sharp photo in which the face of the foreign national is clearly visible;
- A copy of the pages with identity details and period of validity of the passport. Also copy the pages with travel stamps. Do not copy any empty pages; or
- A copy of the front and back of a different identity document issued by the authorities of the country of origin. Enclose a Dutch translation of the front and back of the identity document.

If the foreign national does not have an (own) passport or other identity document, tick below what applies:

- The foreign national does not have an own valid passport or other identity document. In that case you enclose as much other evidence as possible, which shows the identity and nationality.
- The foreign national is under the age of 18 and registered in the valid passport of his parent. You enclose the copies of that passport with the application, including the pages with the identity details, period of validity of the passport and the travel stamps. Do not copy empty pages.

For most Dutch embassies abroad an identity document with a passport photo is required to obtain access to the embassy. The IND requests to enclose a copy of this identity document with this application.

9 Biometric information (fingerprints, passport photo) and signature, Antecedents certificate and Declaration of civil status

- The foreign national must have his fingerprints and facial image (passport photo) taken at the Dutch embassy or consulate to determine his identity. The biometric information is also required to create a residence permit. For the residence permit the IND also needs a signature of the foreign national.
NB. No fingerprints are taken from children younger than 6 years of age, only a passport photo is required.
- Fill out the Antecedents certificate appendix and submit this appendix together with your application (only if the foreign national is 12 years of age or older).
- Enclose the 'Declaration of civil status' appendix, completed and signed by the foreign national (only if the foreign national is 15 years of age or older).

10 Declaration of consent to provide special personal data

The IND requests your consent to provide the municipality with special personal data. Family reunification migrants need a citizen service number (BSN) before they can use public services in the Netherlands. Your family members will have a citizen service number (BSN) once they have been registered in the Personal records database (BRP). Before registering your family members, the municipality checks if their names are written correctly and if a marriage, for instance, is legally valid. For this purpose, the municipality needs special personal data, such as data regarding a person's religion, race, nationality and ethnicity. This information is in the asylum interview report and the (digital) registration form.

The IND is not allowed to provide the municipality with special personal data without the consent of you and your family members. You give your consent by completing the declaration of consent. Your family members will give their consent upon arrival in the Netherlands.

The municipality and the IND do not record special personal data in their systems. The municipality only uses the special personal data to establish a person's surname and to check the legal validity of a marriage or acknowledgement of a child, for instance.

> Please tick the applicable situation

- I give my consent to the IND to provide the municipality with special personal data.
- I do not give my consent to the IND to provide the municipality with special personal data.
Withholding your consent may cause the BRP registration to be delayed.

3 Signing by sponsor

I declare that I present myself as sponsor as referred to in Article 2a of the Aliens Act for the following foreign national for whom a residence permit is applied for.

If you apply for a residence permit for a foreign national, you are the sponsor. This comes with responsibilities. As a sponsor, you must ensure that the foreign national meets the conditions for a residence permit. Not only when applying for a residence permit, but also afterwards. If the foreign national can no longer lawfully reside in the Netherlands, you, as sponsor, are responsible for the foreign national leaving the Netherlands.

Please note! If you are (also) requesting for a child, who is not your own child, but a child from a previous relationship of your spouse/partner to come over to the Netherlands, then not you, but your spouse/partner must complete the 'Declaration by sponsor' regarding the child.

Obligation to provide information

You are obliged to report changes to the IND within 4 weeks if they could have an effect on the residence permit. Please use the 'Notification form for family members and relatives', which you can download from www.ind.nl. The form lists the changes you need to report.

Duty to keep records

You are obliged to collect and store any relevant information about the foreign national. You can find the data you are obliged to store in the Aliens Regulations. You must store this documentary evidence up to 5 years after you are no longer the sponsor of the foreign national. The IND can request data at any time in order to assess whether you have complied with your obligations.

Processing of personal data

The Immigration and Naturalisation Service (IND) processes personal data when it processes your application, notification, or request. This means that if needed the IND will request data from you yourself and other organisations or persons. The IND also uses and stores data and shares them with other organisations. When doing so, the IND strictly adheres to the stipulations of privacy legislation. For instance, the IND must treat data safely and with due care. The law also gives rights. Appendix

Application for DNA test in case of family reunification

You applied for family reunification (whether or not within the context of a journey in connection with family reunification). The person submitting such an application must demonstrate that a family relationship exists. This is usually done by means of official (legalised) documents. If these documents are missing through no fault of your own, a DNA test could offer a solution. Here, you can read how a DNA test works.

What is a DNA test

Each person has unique characteristics. These characteristics have been embedded in our DNA. This DNA can be found in all our body cells. Everyone passes part of these unique characteristics on to his or her children. So father, mother and children partly have the same DNA. A DNA test compares the DNA of your family members.

Possible results

- A DNA test only provides certainty about the biological parent-child relationship. A DNA test has no use if it concerns foster children or adopted children.
- A DNA test can establish (with certainty) that you are not the father or mother of a child.
- A DNA test can establish (with certainty) that you are the father or mother of a child.
- If the DNA test is performed on both parents, it could become clear that one of them is not the biological parent of the child.

How does the test proceed?

If you have applied for family reunification and it is impossible for you to obtain the necessary documents, the Immigration and Naturalisation Service (IND) offers you a DNA test. In that case, you must complete this form in order to state that you want to make use of a DNA test. The test means that a mouth swab is taken from you, your spouse and child(ren) and examined. By comparing the DNA in these mouth swabs, it can be established whether you are the biological parent(s) of the child or the children. Your family members must make an appointment to have their DNA taken at the Dutch embassy. After they have done their DNA test, they must inform you immediately. Starting the next day you can make an appointment online (for yourself and your biological family members in the Netherlands) for DNA collection at the IND desk in Utrecht.

DNA test step by step

The DNA test is not painful and not injurious to one's health.

1. The identity is established.
2. A mouth swab is taken from the inside of your cheek. This is done by using a special swab.
3. All the DNA material is investigated by the Netherlands Forensic Institute (NFI).
4. The NFI sends the result of the DNA test to the IND.

What happens with the test results?

The IND will involve the results of the DNA test in the decision on your application for family reunification. The DNA taken and the pertaining data are destroyed after six months. These data will not be used for other purposes.

Countercheck

With a negative result from the DNA test you can have a counter-inquiry carried out by a different laboratory. This is called a countercheck. This countercheck must be carried out by a laboratory which has been recognised by the Dutch Accreditation Council RVA for carrying out DNA relationship tests. You can check this through the search function on the website of the Dutch Accreditation Council RVA (www.rva.nl/search). You must pay the costs of a countercheck yourself.

More information

Do you still have any questions after reading this information? Then please contact the IND or the Dutch embassy or consulate in the country where you live. Check www.ind.nl for the contact details of the IND. Keep the V-number of your sponsor at hand. Do you have a complaint about the way in which the IND treated you? Then you can use the complaints form at www.ind.nl.

Processing of personal data

The Immigration and Naturalisation Service (IND) processes personal data when it processes your application, notification, or request. This means that if needed the IND will request data from you yourself and other organisations or persons. The IND also uses and stores data and shares them with other organisations. When doing so, the IND strictly adheres to the stipulations of privacy legislation. For instance, the IND must treat data safely and with due care. The law also gives rights. At your request, you are allowed to see which data on you the IND processes. You can also get information on why the IND does so and to whom your data have been passed on. On www.ind.nl you can read how the IND processes your data and which rights you have. You can also read how to use your rights.

2 Signing by applicant

I hereby allow DNA-samples to be taken of (the) aforementioned family member(s). I agree that the results of the examination will only be used to assess the application for family reunification. My family member(s) will report to the Dutch embassy or consulate in:
