Cooperation in a study

Only completely filled in forms will be handled.

The IND regularly receives requests to make information available and to cooperate in interviews for the purpose of a study. In certain cases we are willing to cooperate, provided a number of conditions are met. Because our pressure of work is high and, of course, we always give priority to the correct and quickest possible assessment of applications for residence permits or naturalisation. The conditions that must at least be met are:

- The study must be at a sufficiently scientifically responsible level.
- We honour the request only if the information requested cannot be found in other public sources (internet, publications etc.).
- The study must of course relate to our policy area (implementation of immigration and naturalisation policy).

- The student or researcher agrees to our conditions for dealing with confidential information.
- This application is accompanied by a detailed research design with planning and questionnaire (in case of an interview or survey).
- The application is submitted at least four weeks in advance, so that we will have enough time to assess your request and - in case of a positive decision - to reserve staff capacity and make preparations.

If these conditions are not met, we will not handle your request.
If the conditions have been met, we will inform you as soon as possible whether or not we can honour your request.
